

Job Posting: Housing and Community Data Analyst

Organization: IFN of Ontario

Location: Hybrid / Remote (Travel Required)

Position Type: Full-Time, Permanent

Group Benefits/Pension

Hours: 37.5 hours/week (Monday to Friday, 8:30 AM – 4:30 PM)

Salary Range: $63,500 – $71,000 annually

Make Data Matter for Communities

IFN of Ontario is looking for a Housing and Community Data Analyst who wants to be part of meaningful, community-driven work. This isn't just a data role, it's an opportunity to help shape how housing realities are understood, respected, and acted on. Your work will support First Nation communities in strengthening data sovereignty, informing decisions, and advancing solutions that reflect real experiences. If you're someone who wants your work to have purpose, impact, and connection, this role is for you.

What You'll Be Part Of

- Supporting work that strengthens First Nation data sovereignty
- Contributing to projects that reflect real community housing experiences
- Collaborating with communities, partners, and leadership
- Helping build approaches that are respectful, culturally grounded, and community-informed

What You'll Bring

- Experience in research, data analysis, or community-based work
- Understanding of First Nation contexts and priorities
- Knowledge of OCAP® or data sovereignty principles
- Strong communication and relationship-building skills
- A desire to do work that matters

Why This Role Matters

The work you do will help ensure that housing and community data is not just collected — but understood in a way that reflects dignity, respect, and First Nation perspectives. You'll be contributing to long-term, meaningful change.

How to Apply

Interested candidates are invited to submit their resume and cover letter outlining their qualifications and experience to dianemn@ifnc.ca. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted. Competition Open until May 15, 2026 5 pm EST

Please visit our website for a detailed job description of this position.

www.independentfirstnation.ca